To Whom It May Concern,

As it is for all parents, choosing the best childcare for our daughter, Meredith, was a daunting task. We wanted her to receive the best care possible. Care that was safe and stimulating and provided in a loving, warm environment. We also wanted a childcare provider that served only a small number of children at a time in a family-based atmosphere. Little Angels School House, run by Rima Numan, has provided all of that and more.

Rima has been Meredith's daycare provider since Meredith was two-and-a-half months old. She is now fourteen months. Meredith loves going to daycare every day. She has never complained or fussed about being dropped off. Rather, she gets excited every time we drop her off. Meredith comes home almost every day with a new art project or singing a song.

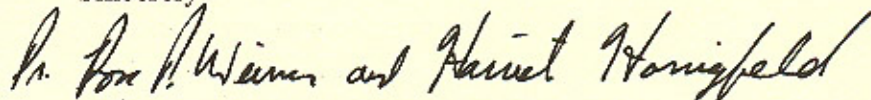

Rima has a gift for working with children. She is always calm and treats each child with love. All of the children love her, too. Rima has developed a curriculum that enables each child, regardless of age, to develop and grow. The fact that the children are of various ages is, to us, a benefit since our daughter has learned to play and interact with those around her whether they are older or younger than her.

The Little Angels Schoolhouse is set up in a way that encourages a child's growth and development, too. Each room has numerous activities, stimulating artwork and posters, and ample room for the children to play. The children participate in "circle time" each day, leaning about a new subject. Several times a year Rima has special themed parties for the children.

Overall, we are extremely happy with Rima and our daughter loves her. Rima and the Little Angels School House have been invaluable assets in Meredith's growth and development.

We would recommend Rima to anyone without hesitation.

Sincerely
